

UNITED PROGRAM ON TREATY ISSUES TO BE DEVELOPED

Formal Conferences Held Between Lloyd George and Millerand.

Germany To Plead For Ships and Raw Materials.

London, May 15.—Formal conferences between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand peace treaty matters that will later be discussed at the Spa conference, were begun at the Hythe today. They expect to develop a 'united program.' It is now expected that the Spa conference will not be held until June because of the insistence of the Germans for a postponement.

The German delegates at Spa will be bluntly asked why Germany has not turned over the cattle to Belgium and France promised under the peace treaty, why 15,000 German airplanes have not been destroyed and why Germany has defaulted in her coal payment to France. The allies will ask Germany what final and definite guarantee she is ready to give that the peace treaty will be fulfilled.

It is regarded as possible that Germany will plead for ships and raw materials from her former colonies, contending that she will not be in a position to meet the indemnity demands until her economic position is thus made stronger. Great Britain will be ready to meet any such proposal.

France Gets First

France wants the first portion of the German indemnity and it is understood that Great Britain has agreed to this in the event that Belgium is properly safeguarded. France wants to cut down her foreign debt to the extent of any possible reduction in the amount of German indemnity.

Premier Lloyd George will point out, however, that it is impossible for Great Britain to remit loans unless the United States does the same thing, a proposal which England will not make.

It is now estimated that the German indemnity will be $5,000,000,000 pounds sterling, the annual payment fluctuating according to Germany's ability to pay.

M. Cambon, of the French diplomatic corps, has accompanied Premier Millerand from Paris. The conferences are being held in a fawn colored tent in Balmy weather on the channel coast.

FRENCH TRAITORS ARE EXECUTED

Paris, May 15.—Four traitors to France, one of them a woman, were shot on the execution ground at Vincennes this morning.

The woman, Alice Aubert, met her fate calmly. As the firing squad discharged their rifles the woman cried:

"I am innocent, vive France!"

Alice Aubert was found guilty of having treasonable dealings with the German forces occupying northern France.

POLAND'S DESIRE IS TO HELP UKRAINIANS OBTAIN INDEPENDENCE

Berlin, May 15.—"Poland's only design in helping the Russian bolsheviks in Ukraine is to support the Ukrainians efforts to secure independence," said Premier Skuski of Poland, in a telegram to the Berlin bureau of the International News Service today. He continued:

"Considering the obstinacy of the soviet government, Poland has been forced to continue the war although she has not lost sight of sincerely desired peace. By beating back the bolsheviks from Ukraine the local population would be liberated from the bolshevik yoke and orderly economic conditions could be introduced into the country. This would result in enormous agricultural production and would help the provisioning of Europe which is suffering for want of food."

MILITARY DICTATOR MAY BE ESTABLISHED

London, May 15.—Unconfirmed rumors were current in Paris today that General Brusiloff had seized the Russian government at Moscow and that fighting was in progress, said a Paris dispatch to the Manchester Guardian. M. Jouhaux, secretary of the French labor federation, was quoted as saying that General Brusiloff is apparently trying to establish a military dictatorship against the soviet. Brusiloff is commander of the bolshevik army. He was a former general of the old Russian imperial army.

PAYNE SLATED AS WILSON DARK HORSE ENTRY, BELIEF

Secretary of Interior Mentioned As Possible Man To Displace McAdoo On Democratic Ticket When Convention Meets.

Washington, May 15.—John Barton Payne, secretary of the interior, is now mentioned as President Wilson's dark horse entry in the Democratic presidential nomination stakes at San Francisco.

Among politicians William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, is still favorite in the betting, which Governor Cox, of Ohio, is coming to be regarded as almost a sure thing for second place on the ticket. But circumstances may arise making McAdoo's nomination inadvisable, it is pointed out in which case the administration must have a

VILLA SCORES WILSON POLICY TOWARD MEXICO

President Committed Grave Error In Trusting Carranza.

Orteiz, Chihuahua, Mexico, May 15.—Francisco Villa, in an interview today, blamed President Wilson for many of the troubles Mexico has undergone during the past few years, declaring that he committed a "grave error" in placing faith in Carranza, and advocated the investment of foreign capital in Mexican enterprises as the best means to place that country in a position of peace and prosperity. He also discussed the present revolution in detail and what he believes it means to the hopes and aspirations of the Mexican people.

"I endeavored four years ago, after my split with Carranza, to point out the grave error your president was committing in placing trust and faith in this traitor of the Mexican people, who not only has been snapping the life blood of a struggling nation but who also has been continually looting the treasury and heaping unwarranted taxation upon the masses. Why did he do this? Why in order that he might divide his ill-gotten spoils with the military powers, so as to make more secure his hold on the reins of the government."

"Now to be candid with you in my statements, it is my desire to see a reign of peace and prosperity in Mexico. And this will come if General Calles (commander in chief of the rebel armies) will carry out and adhere to certain portions of the 'plan of Agua Prieta' which declares for the protection of all foreigners and the safeguarding of foreign capital invested throughout the republic."

Asked for expressions as to the present revolution and its ultimate outcome, Villa shrugged his shoulders. Then he said:

"There will be no more revolutions in Mexico after this one has been brought to a successful conclusion. Plans for the present one were well laid. It is the third revolution in ten years and—well, practice makes perfect."

FIRE THREATENS DESTRUCTION OF BIG UNIVERSITY

Princeton Scene Of Early Morning Blaze On Saturday.

BUILDINGS ARE RAZED

Entire University Narrowly Escapes Complete Ruin.

Princeton, N. J., May 15.—Marquand Chapel and Dickinson Hall noted buildings on the campus of Princeton university, were destroyed by fire early today. The damage done was estimated at $200,000. Sparks driven by a high wind set fire also to the roof of McCosh Hall, the largest recitation hall in the country, valued at $1,000,000 but the structure was saved after a hard fight.

Destruction of practically the entire university was narrowly averted. The spread of the fire was stopped and the flames brought under control only after apparatus and men from nearby towns had come to reinforce the Princeton department and volunteers from the ranks of students and old graduates here for the big athletic event.

Dickinson Hall, one of the oldest and most historic structures on the campus, was completely destroyed and with it went invaluable and irreplaceable collections of professors of economics and philosophy. Beautiful Marquand chapel, with its famous paintings and artistic memorials, is in ruins.

Near Destruction

A charred area on the roof of McCosh hall tells how near one of the university's finest buildings came to destruction.

Princeton seldom has lived through a night of more intense excitement. The town was filled with visitors for today's athletic events, and a freshman dance in the gym had not ended when the alarm was sounded.

Students and visitors came tumbling out, some in the tumbled disarray that indicated hurried dressing after retirement and others in the clothes they wore while attending social functions. Fair girls in flimsy evening attire tried to aid the men in their effort to check the fire.

Students groped their way through smoke filled halls in an endeavor to carry out precious books, papers and collections. Other students helped man the fire apparatus but Dickinson hall, the fire's starting place, was a mass of flames, before much of value could be saved. Every effort was made to prevent the fire spreading to Marquand chapel but a stiff wind whipped the flames across the intervening space.

Both buildings were unoccupied when the fire started and lives were not endangered, although the authorities were forced to order out zealous students who were eager to save the contents of the buildings.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

DEATH PENALTY ON AT MOSCOW

London, May 15.—Martial law and the death penalty have been re-established at Moscow, according to a dispatch from Ambrose Lambert, the Moscow correspondent of the Daily Express today.

According to the Gerth representatives here, much of the time during the afternoon and evening sessions will be occupied with entertainment features and the distribution of prizes, offered as an inducement to the people to attend, and only about an hour will be expended in the actual sale of lots.

Mr. John, advance property man, and Thomas P. Flood, advance publicity man, are now on the scene and will be joined by other representatives of the company here Sunday. The company is employing a force of office girls in the Ed. Wood building on West Main street and in the dining room of The Regal, working on the publicity campaign work.

FORMER ADMINISTRATIONS HURT NAVY SAYS DANIELS

Alleged Lack of Preparedness Laid at Door of Roosevelt and Taft Regimes; Present Administration Not at Fault.

Washington, May 15.—Alleged lack of preparedness of the navy for war "is a fault that lies more at the door of the secretaries of the navy preceding the Wilson administration," rather than with the present regime, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today charged before the senate subcommittee investigating the conduct of the war by the navy department. Daniels specifically mentioned the administrations of Roosevelt and Taft, charging that the United States navy, during these administrations, was in a state of unpreparedness compared with the navies of Great Britain and Germany during these administrations.

"The navy increased in personnel between March, 1913, and Sept., 1916, more than during any corresponding period of our history in time of peace," Daniels declared. "When I became secretary of the navy, I found that under the administration of president Taft, 1908 to 1912, the navy fell back according to a report of the general board in response to a request from Representative Butler, of the house naval affairs committee for an explanation as to how the German navy obtained its superiority over ours."

"The Wilson administration, however, is blamed for a condition it inherited from former administrations," Daniels said. Improvements in anti aircraft guns and other ordnance during his administration were referred to by the secretary.

Statements made by Rear Admiral Sims in making charges against the department were characterized by Daniels as perfectly unfounded and war-ton. "Members of the general board have told how impossible it would be for any man to make plans, put them in a drawer, and years after when war is declared to say 'look in my drawer B and take plan A' and then go to sleep while his plan is being worked out."

Preparedness for war plans was approved by him March 13, 1915, Daniels said.

"The navy exercised all the foresight in following this plan it possibly could before the war," Daniels said.

COUPLE ELOPES; MARRIED IN KENTUCKY

Without telling their folks their plans, Ernest J. Manran, young World War veteran, and Miss Grace M. Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright of West Second street, eloped and were married in Newport, Ky., Friday.

The youthful pair returned to Xenia Friday evening, and announced their marriage. They will be with relatives over Sunday, and Monday will go to Akron where Mr. Mangan is employed. Mr. Mangan served two years overseas during the late war, seeing much active service. He was one of the youngest enlisted men from Greene county, and is now only 19 years of age. His bride is about the same age.

CARRANZA PLANS ESCAPE; REBELS FORGING ISSUE

Final Stage Of Battle Reported To Be Near.

TO MAKE REPRISALS

Foreign Warships Now Gathered In Harbor Of Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, May 15.—The battle between Carranza's followers and revolutionary troops near San Marcos was reported today to be in its final stage. Carranza was said to have been advised by General Mariel and General Barranco, two of his most trusted aides, to make a supreme effort to cut his way through the state of Hidalgo and make his escape from the country. The revolutionary leaders learned of his plan and were preparing to make a strong attack today in an effort to frustrate it.

The revolutionists have decided to make reprisals against the Carranzistas for the shooting of Colonel Rocha, one of the bravest officers in the revolutionary army. Colonel Rocha was captured while leading his men against the Carranza forces at San Andres. He was tried by drum-head courtmartial and sentenced to be shot.

Fighting spreads from the original zone of battle near San Marcos, on the railway line between this city and Mexico City. Carranzista troops made an attack against the revolutionaries in the state of Puebla but were driven back, losing many men in killed and wounded, according to information reaching here today. At Espehanza the revolutionists collected a large force of reinforcements to join in the general attack against the followers of Carranza.

Foreign warships have begun to gather in the harbor here. Both French and British citizens requested their government to send warships to remove them in the event of an outbreak here.

The United States Consul and the British vice-consul arranged for the sending of a special train from this city to Mexico City to bring all the foreigners out of the capital under a white flag. The train departed under a guard of naval cadets, under Lieutenant Illades. The Lieutenant was instructed to attempt to find William D. Body, the British consul who disappeared while on his way to Vera Cruz from Mexico City with Carranza.

STRAW HATS MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE

Straws were permissible but not abundant Saturday.

Although May 15, according to tradition and custom, lifts the ban on the use of the straw headpieces, and permits their use during the rest of the summer, the weather man was instrumental in changing the plans this year.

There were quite a few citizens wearing straw hats on the streets Saturday, but the decidedly cool and inclement weather that has existed recently, has discouraged the use of the summer top piece until warmer zephyrs blow on Xenia's streets.

SENATE PASSES ON KNOX PEACE PACT PROPOSAL

Passage Of Measure By Good Majority Predicted.

Washington, May 15.—By unanimous agreement the senate voted on the amended Knox peace resolution at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Passage of the measure by a "comfortable majority" was predicted by the Republican leaders.

Elimination from it by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, of a request that President Wilson negotiate a separate treaty with Germany, solidified Republican support with the exception of Senator McCumber of North Dakota, "mildest of the mild reservationists."

A number of Democratic senators opposed to the president's attitude of the peace treaty and the league of nations have signified their intention of voting for the resolution.

Following its expected passage by the senate the measures will be sent to the house and there formally referred to the house foreign affairs committee. Republican leaders of the lower house are planning to force a vote on it by the end of next week.

UNITED PROGRAM ON TREATY ISSUES TO BE DEVELOPED

Formal Conferences Held Between Lloyd George and Millerand.

Germany To Plead For Ships and Raw Materials.

London, May 15.—Formal conferences between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand peace treaty matters that will later be discussed at the Spa conference, were begun at the Hythe today. They expect to develop a united program. It is now expected that the Spa conference will not be held until June because of the insistence of the Germans for a postponement.

The German delegates at Spa will be bluntly asked why Germany has not turned over the cattle to Belgium and France promised under the peace treaty, why 15,000 German airplanes have not been destroyed and why Germany has defaulted in her coal payment to France. The allies will ask Germany what final and definite guarantee she is ready to give that the peace treaty will be fulfilled.

It is regarded as possible that Germany will plead for ships and raw materials from her former colonies, contending that she will not be in a position to meet the indemnity demands until her economic position is thus made stronger. Great Britain will be ready to meet any such proposal.

POLAND'S DESIRE IS TO HELP UKRAINIANS OBTAIN INDEPENDENCE

Berlin, May 15.—"Poland's only design in helping the Russian bolsheviks in Ukraine is to support the Ukrainians efforts to secure independence," said Premier Skulski of Poland, in a telegram to the Berlin bureau of the International News Service today. He continued:

Secretary of Interior Mentioned As Possible Man To Displace McAdoo On Democratic Ticket When Convention Meets.

Washington, May 15.—John Barton Payne, secretary of the interior, is now mentioned as President Wilson's dark horse entry in the Democratic presidential nomination stakes at San Francisco.

Among political William G. But circumstances may arise making McAdoo's nomination inadvisable, it is pointed out in which case the administration must have a candidate already groomed and waiting.

This man, it is said, may be Secretary Payne.

The secretary has been a frequent caller at the White House of late. He has seen the president a number of times recently, more often, perhaps, than any other member of the cabinet. In addition to this some of the president's advisers have frequently been to see Payne and these things, coupled with the known fact that he stands as high with the head of the administration may be behind the report.

It is understood that Secretary Payne was being considered as the new liquidating officer succeeding Director General Walker D. Hines, of the railroad administration, who goes out of office today, the secretary to take on the new duties in addition to those he already has. But this was an explanation which did not explain, leastwise to the satisfaction of politicians watching the situation.

A deeper meaning was given the goings and comings of the secretary and the president's advisers, and the meaning, of course was labeled political.

Secretary Payne is said to have won the implicit confidence of the president who considers him a marvel of administrative ability. On the treaty he is understood to have agreed with the president to a "T."

The United States Consul and the British vice-consul arranged for the sending of a special train from this city to Mexico City to bring all the foreigners out of the capital under a white flag. The train departed under a guard of naval cadets, under Lieutenant Illades. The Lieutenant was instructed to attempt to find William D. Body, the British consul who disappeared while on his way to Vera Cruz from Mexico City with Carranza.

STRAW HATS MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE

Straws were permissible but not abundant Saturday.

Although May 15, according to tradition and custom, lifts the ban on the use of the straw headpieces, and permits their use during the rest of the summer, the weather man was instrumental in changing the plans this year.

There were quite a few citizens wearing straw hats on the streets Saturday, but the decidedly cool and inclement weather that has existed recently has discouraged the use of the summer top piece until warmer zephyrs blow on Xenia's streets.

WORLD WAR VETERANS OF 166TH INFANTRY GUESTS OF GOVERNOR

Columbus, O., May 15.—Ohio veterans of the recent world war, members of the 166th infantry, Rainbow division, today contrasted their sensations experienced when they slept in the governor's mansion, East Broad street, here last night with the war time days two years ago when they slept in muddy trenches and water-logged dugouts in France.

Expecting an attendance of about 500 former soldiers at the reunion of Ohio Rainbow division veterans, being held here, "billeting" arrangements were made accordingly. When it was found that the attendance was at least 1,000, Governor Cox announced that all former soldiers who had not obtained rooming quarters were welcome to spend the night in the executive mansion. Several veterans of the 166th regiment accepted his offer.

Governor Cox, in behalf of the state, accepted the regiment's battle flags which bear nine clasps representing the regiment's engagements in France. Colonel Ben Hough of Delaware, who commanded the regiment overseas, presented the flags to the governor. The flags will be placed in the color cases in the state house rotunda.

Election of officers and delegates to the national convention, consideration of committee reports, and discussion of questions of policy comprise today's program.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 10c and 25c.

Mr. Henry Zartman, who was called to Jamestown on account of the illness of his brother, H. B. Zartman, has returned to his home at Dayton.

Is It Yours

This Is the Birthday of Florence Nightingale May 15, 1820.

This is not only the birthday, but it is also the centenary of Florence Nightingale, who was one of the greatest figures in the history of humanity. She was born in Italy of a well-to-do English family, and was named Florence after the city where she was born. She refused to live the idle society life which her family and friends expected of her, and instead began to study nursing and hospital work.

When she was 33 she was already superintendent of a large hospital in London. The Crimean war broke out. One Englishman wrote back from the front, "Are there no devoted women able to go forth to minister to the suffering soldiers in the East?" Miss Nightingale had already offered her services and one week later was on her way to Scutari with 38 nurses.

Soldiers called her "the Lady of the Lamp" because she was so often at work during the dark hours. Long-fellow celebrated her services in his "Santa Filomena". The death rate had been as high as 42 per cent until Miss Nightingale took hold. Very little attention was paid to scientific food and hospital cleanliness before this time.

Miss Nightingale herself finally caught the Crimean fever and came home after three years of service. Her advice was asked in the time of our own Civil War and the Franco-Prussian war. She died in 1907.

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before child birth."

Mrs. JOHN LUBINI, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

ABOUT ORNAMENTS

A clever writer who handles cynicism so delicately and delightfully that on one can help but like it, has written a little essay on ornaments and jewelry, parts of which I want to quote today.

Franz Blei says, "All ornaments * * * is meant to draw attention to the part of the body which it adorns. The ear ring, which is to draw attention to a small ear, should not weigh it down too heavily, or the pleasure which it gives us is spoiled by a fear lest the ring should tear the lobe. Big ears are better without those ornaments. Bracelets should not be worn on thick wrists, nor shoe ribbons on thick ankles. Long Marquise rings on short plump fingers will make the fingers look shorter still. Pale stones may be worn on pale hands, but stones for red hands must be carefully chosen."

And this part I think is specially good, and should be remembered— "One of those long chains depending at right angles from the edge of an ill-cut corset, over a stout figure, makes a woman's bust appear more grotesque than it is."

(Mr. Blei, of course has in mind those stout, over-developed women who think to hide their flesh by compressing it with long skirted, high bust corsets, and by drawing the shirtwaist tightly over the figure.)

"A woman seldom wears a strange ornament successfully. It awakens impressions out of harmony with the woman's presence. Except at theaters or balls, anything of a fantastic

THE RETAILER VINDICATED.

Much has been said and written about the prevailing high prices of commodities today. Innumerable attempts to fix responsibility have apparently ended in blind alleys, and the department of justice has widely published its activities in the arrest of a few retailers who were alleged to have sold some commodity at a few cents profit over that which was allowed. Such activity can get nowhere. There may be a few retail dealers who are guilty of petty profiteering, but the great majority are as innocent of this practice as the public itself, and are as much concerned over prices at which they are forced to sell as the buyer. The real reason for the present situation is not in any sense of the word due to the retailer, and legislation aimed at him is but a sorry excuse for failure to get at the interests higher up. The following statement prepared by a national retail association clearly sets forth some of the outstanding facts in the matter.

"Legislation cannot supplant the laws of business competition in the interests of the people.

"Whenever and wherever such legislation has been tried, it has resulted in unwieldy, slow-moving bureaucratic machinery whose chief product is 'red-tape,' whose absolute authority often intimidates the smaller business man, undermines the liberties of the people, and whose maintenance cost involves greatly increased taxation.

"It is the function of the Government to protect the public against collusion, monopoly and hoarding in every trade and industry; for it is by such means, and such means only, that profiteering is possible. Whenever there is active, keen competition, the public interest is automatically safe-guarded far better than by an legislative processes.

"The Lever Food Control Act failed to lower food prices. Instead, prices have advanced materially since war-time law was placed upon the statute books, proving the truth of what our forefathers declared, that no amount of legislation could make it possible to sell a two-penny loaf for a penny.

"In the face of this concrete experience, when Congress was petitioned to extend the Lever Act to include wearing apparel, the sponsors of the petition promised such action would greatly reduce the high cost of living.

"That this promise has failed to bear fruit the public is aware. It has failed, as it did in food, to effect any material reduction in prices. It has, however, been responsible for many erratic statements which have appeared in the newspapers about our American system of retailing in general, and about retail shoe merchandising in particular. The obvious attempt has been made, through sensational announcements and distorted facts, to have the public believe that retailers are the CAUSE of high prices.

"Every shoe retailer in the United States is keenly competing for patronage in his own community, but as much as he would like to sell shoes at prices the public would like to pay, he faces the fundamental elements of cost which have accumulated by the time the merchandise reaches his store, which elements are beyond his control, and which he has no choice but to pass on to the consumer.

"It must be obvious to the thinking citizen that it is impossible to legislate low prices, and that with the unrestrained laws of supply and demand fostering competition, the public everywhere is able to buy the best shoes made in the world for any purpose at the lowest prices which it is possible for the retailers to sell them and remain in business.

"It is up to the individual consumer to conserve by buying stouter soles and sturdier leathers, and having shoes repaired again and again. If every one in America would do this sensible thing a surplus of materials and labor would soon be created and the result would surely be cheaper shoes."

NEWSPRINT PRICES TO ADVANCE JULY 1.

Further advances in print-paper prices are to be made by the International Paper Co. on July 1, said a telegram from Chester W. Lyman, vice president of the company, which was presented Friday to the Senate committee investigating the paper shortage.

The message, addressed to Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, follows:

"Alarming rise in prices for pulp wood, other raw materials and mill supplies, together with inevitable increase in transportation charges will necessitate a higher selling price for last two quarters. Impossible to foretell extent of increase on account of uncertainty of conditions. Increase in cost likely to continue to turning point reached in general industrial, social and financial conditions.

"Only remedy for present trouble is rigid economy by publishers in their use of news-print. It would be the height of folly for government to attempt to regulate or lower spot market, onerous as it may appear, as it would result in diversion of many specialty mills now making news-print to their normal product. This addition to present news-print supply, stimulated by the high prices of the spot market, is estimated at about 150,000 tons a year.

"High spot market prices largely warranted by scarcity of raw material and corresponding high prices. In most cases believe the profits are not inordinate. Small publishers must be helped out by larger consumers protected by contracts."

In presenting the telegram, Charles G. Ross, Washington correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, said that paper was "strongly opposed to government control of the paper industry in any form whatsoever, on the ground that it would, in effect, be government control of the press."

"We do not believe," he said, "that government regulation of the size of newspapers is a sound solution of the difficulty, but believe the solution should be left to the publishers, and that the law of supply and demand will in the long run correct the present high prices."

James W. Brown, New York, of the Editor and Publisher, recommended a co-operative agreement to reduce print-paper consumption until production could be increased. No set rule could be laid down for the purpose, he said, adding that it should be dealt with by publishers in each community.

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

STOCKS

The recent largely professional market has been under strong bearish influence, notwithstanding occasional upturns. The probability that a soldier bonus law would pass, unsettled in trade and cancellations reported by the textile mills, unfavorable crop advices, and public indifference to stocks apparently in consequence of the thrift movement were held responsible. Traders have adopted a conservative attitude. In support of the bull position it may be said that the market's technical aspect has improved greatly under liquidation and that stock prices have discounted considerable liquidation in commodities.

The market has already begun to speculate upon the probable effects of the party conventions in June. The suggestion of a tax on stock sales caused some perturbation.

GRAIN

The grain market is unquestionably very sensitive to bullish influence in view of the prevailing and continuing railroad congestion, the late season labor conditions on the farm, and the outlook for a vigorous world food demand this coming year unmatched by adequate supplies in foreign countries. The outlook is distinctly bullish. Nevertheless prices have been none too secure on their lofty perch and are subject to reaction. A sudden collapse followed the advance of cash corn at Toledo to $2.10 last August. Recession this year seem likely to be temporary as the market is more securely grounded. The fall harvest may bring lower prices, but all do not concede this.

LIVESTOCK

The favorable reception accorded light hogs naturally tended to increase the supply. Feeders are marketing both light hogs and cattle rather than continue feeding corn at present prices. The country is clamoring for cars, both to market stuff for killing and to move feeders into pasture. The traffic situation has improved somewhat, various railroads lifting embargoes at least partially. Cattle show underlying weakness, while appreciating in value from time to time. Early recovery in the calf market has been expected. Calves are out of line with lambs, which enjoy unabated demand, notwithstanding large imports of lamb and mutton.

Just Hats

WAS BADLY RUN-DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Washburn quickly regained her strength and flesh.

"I had gripe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning. "One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, am doing all my own work again and feel like a new person."

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is as pleasant to take. It is a food as well as a medicine and builds up the blood and tissues. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had."—Mrs. M. Washburn, El Centro, Cal.

It costs nothing to try Milks Emulsion. It will build you up more quickly, more surely than anything else. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are usually relieved in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

"That's a fine umbrella you carry, isn't it?"
"Yes."

"Billfour has invited me over to his house to take a drink of real Scotch whisky—smoky taste and everything."

"Ah! You're lucky. There's precious little Scotch to be had nowadays. When are you going over?"

"I'm not going over."

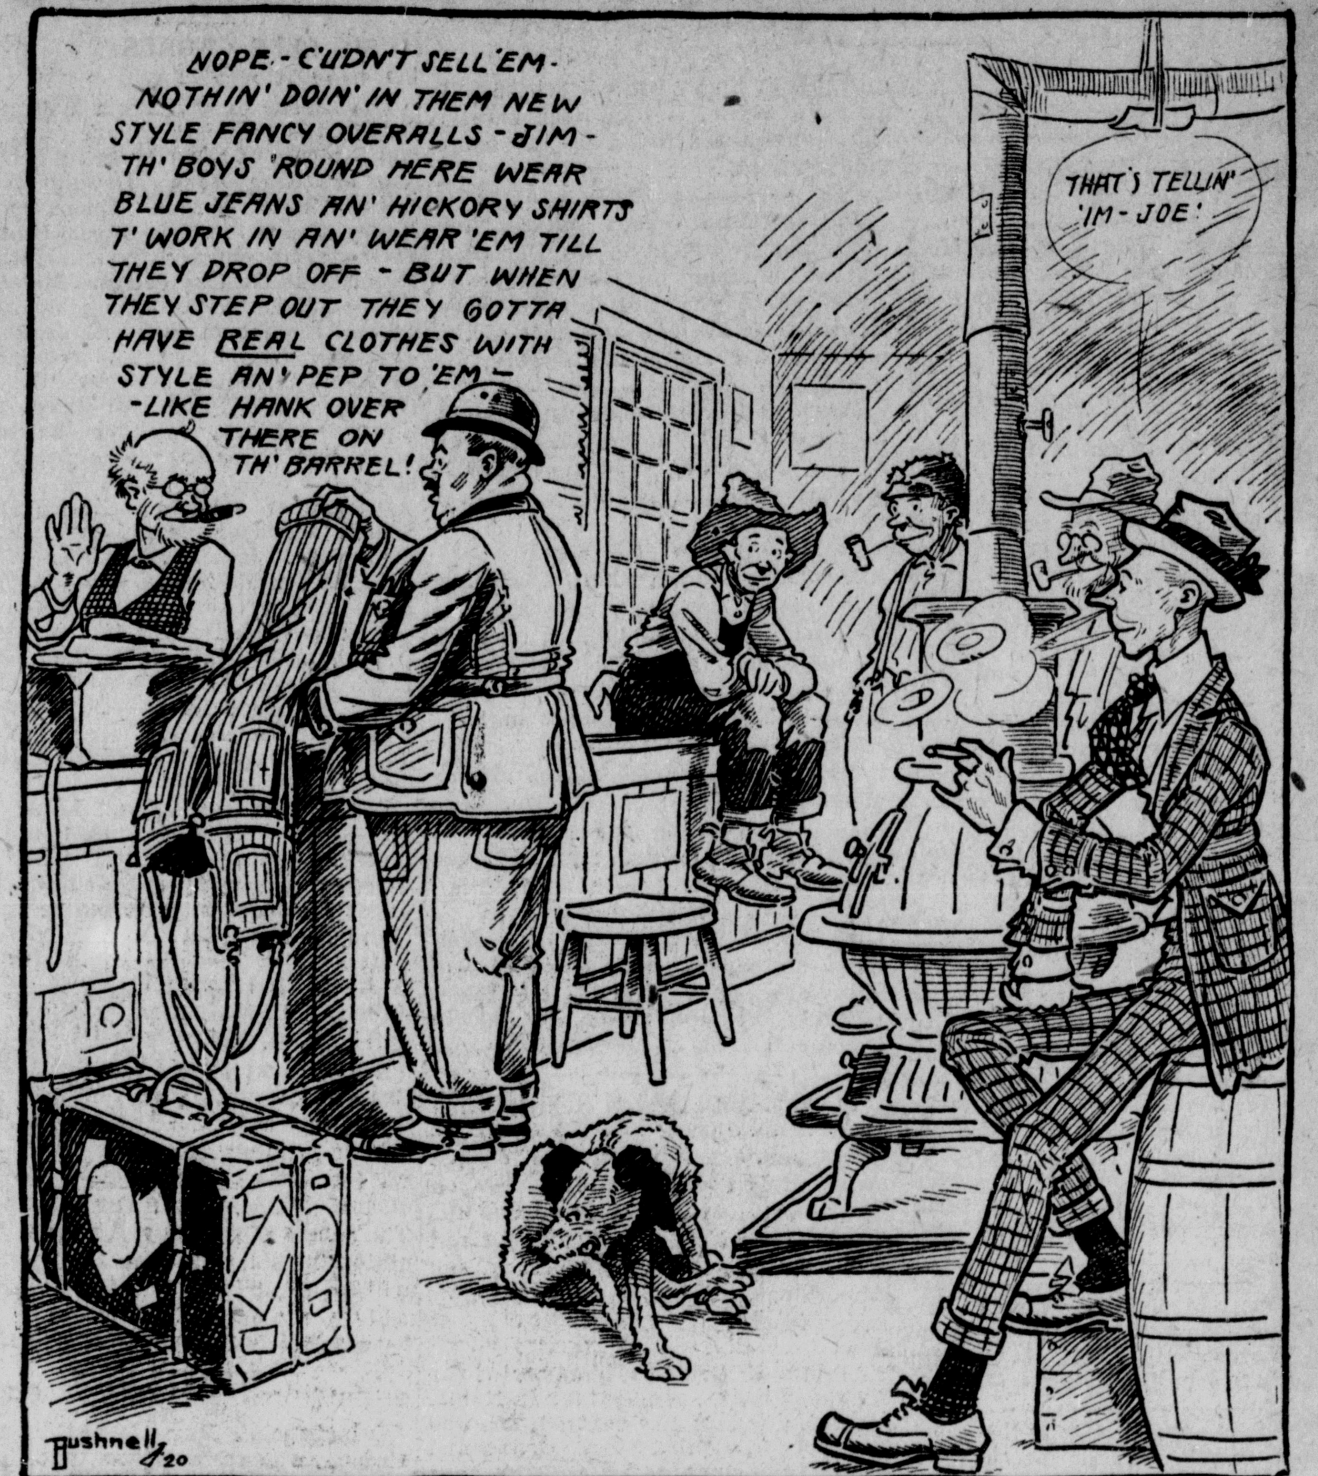

"What!"

"I'm naturally tender-hearted and I can't bear the look of acute distress that comes on Biffour's face as he watches me pour out what I consider a decent snifter."

"Now, ma'am," cried the cross-examining lawyer, as reported in "Tit-Bits," of London, "was the defendant's air when, as you allege, he promised to marry you, perfectly serious, or was it, on the contrary, jocular and full of levity?"

"It was all ruffled," replied the plaintiff, "with 'im runnin' 'is 'ands through it!"

BELLBROOK

Notwithstanding the disfigurement caused by unfavorable weather conditions, hundreds of people from all parts of the township, and nearby villages braved the elements and packed the town hall to its capacity on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, to witness the well-known and popular rural comedy, "Rose Brook Farm." The play was presented by the Senior class of the Sugar Creek township high school, after days of studious untiring preparation on the part of the fifteen members, who have completed their course of study. That the play company had been under the strict tutorage of a high order was borne out in full by each actor and actress as they rendered in an almost faultless manner their respective parts behind the footlights. The matchless Heidelberg orchestra of Dayton, kept the audience on each occasion in a high state of glee by their superb rendition of high classed, up to date selections.

HOME MADE RECIPE CATARRH AND COLDS

Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

WAS NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN

RESTORED TO NORMAL HEALTH BY BIO-FEREN

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy—Bio-feren Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you.

Seven a day for seven days—Wonderful results.

Mr. G. Buentemeier

Tells How Cuticura

Healed Pimples

"My whole body was full of red pimples. The skin started to itch and I would rub it, and the more I scratched the more the pimples spread. When I could not sleep, the pimples itched so I could not work, and when I rubbed, the skin would get red and burn, and my whole body was filled with eruptions for six months.

"Then I started to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After I used them a week I found relief and I only used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) George Buentemeier, Pine Top, Minn., May 30, 1919.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. B, P. O. Box 100, Lowell, Mass."

where Soap 25c, Ointment 25c and 50c, Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

Overloaded

There is a limit to the load anything can carry. It is easy to see the overload when someone is trying to get it on the wagon. However, there are other burdens far more difficult to handle, but that are not so easily seen.

The greatest burden any business ever has to struggle with is that of trying to keep on its feet when its income fails to meet expenses.

The Central Union Telephone Company has to buy materials and the labor of trained employees to give its subscribers good telephone service. It must meet these expenses by selling service.

Telephone users certainly want the men and women who are devoting themselves to giving the best telephone service possible to have fair wages. And everybody knows how much it costs to buy materials these days.

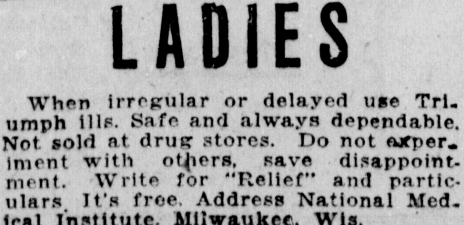

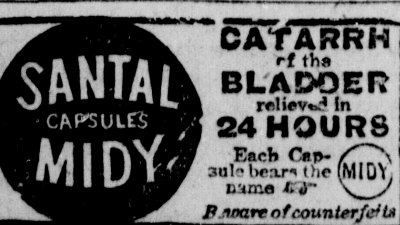

In common with every other business and every family, the Central Telephone Company has felt the rising tide of prices. There has been a constant increase during the last few years in the cost of producing telephone service.

This company has only one source of income—the money paid by telephone users for service. Adequate rates are necessary if we are to keep this service at its maximum efficiency.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. STEWART PLEADS FOR JACK

Chapter 12

Jack didn't seem to be at all upset when I told him I had not decided to marry. In novels the lover always raves and declares he cannot live without the one girl whom he honors with his love, and his proposal. So I was rather disappointed that Jack took it so coolly.

"You'll change your mind," Jack remarked after a moment. "All girls do."

"Perhaps I may be a little different from 'all girls,'" I said sarcastically.

"Oh, no you won't! And I am going to keep right on asking you until you accept me."

"To get rid of you?"

We both laughed. Jack really was a nice chap, but spoiled by having too much money and a doting mother who thought him perfect—and told him, as well as the others.

"In self-defense, perhaps. But I don't care anything about WHY you marry me. It is the fact that you are going to that interests me," he said.

"Don't be tiresome! I may never marry at all, as I told you. If I do, it won't be for years and years."

Then: "Father doesn't believe in my marrying young."

For the first time Jack looked a little anxious.

"You mean that your Father would object to me?"

"Oh, I don't know that he would object to you any more than to any other fellow—unless he objected to you because you are an idler."

"What's the use of working when one doesn't have to?"

"None at all, unless it is to show that you have brains as well as money."

"What rot you talk! I thought perhaps I might do things to which he objected."

"No—Mother says you are a nice, moral boy!"

Jack flushed crimson.

"What's the matter? Don't you like to be called 'nice' and 'moral'?"

"Might as well call a fellow a fool. I mean no disrespect to your Mother. But it sounds like something terribly namby-pamby. No one could accuse me of being that."

"No—I don't think they could, Jack. But suppose we talk of something else. I shall not marry you—or anyone—for a long time. So why waste the afternoon talking of it?"

Mother came in just then and greeted Jack so effusively—for her—I wanted to shake her. He looked at me in a way that said as plainly as words, "Your Mother doesn't object to me for a son in law."

I was quite embarrassed, as well as a bit ashamed of Mother for showing her feelings so plainly. I was afraid, too, that Jack would let her know he had proposed to me, and that I would get a scolding after he left. But he didn't say a word about it, and soon left, so giving Mother no chance.

"What a nice boy Jack is!" she remarked. I made no reply, although she had waited, evidently expecting one. "He is the most desirable young man we know."

"In what respect, Mother? As a husband, or as a son in law?"

"In both, Zena. He is a gentleman, has good habits, and unlimited resources." Mother seldom used the word "money" when talking of what people had. I imagine she thought it vulgar.

"But doesn't one need to love the man one marries? One can't love a man just because he is nice, and has money."

"It is just as easy to care for a young man like Jack Pryor as it is to become infatuated with someone not his equal in any way."

I knew Mother was speaking generally; that she had no one in particular in mind. Yet my thoughts flew to Kenneth Lawrence. Was he not Jack Pryor's equal in all that counted? He had no money. His manners were not quite so exquisite, even if they were honest, but—my thoughts were interrupted.

"I hope you will be very nice to to Jack Pryor, Zena. His Mother thinks a great deal of you."

"My own Mother satisfies me." I kissed her and ran from the room before she could say any more. But when Dad came in I overheard her say to him:

"Zena shall marry Jack Pryor. They would make an ideal couple."
